Exiles in Hit-Run Raid On Cuba Navy Garrison

By United Press International

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA

Anti-Castro commando forces attacked a Cuban Navy garrison on the south coast of eastern Oriente Province Sunday night, it was reported here yesterday.

Cuban exile sources said the attack was directed against coastal installations—beacons and lighthouses—at Cuba's Cape Cruz. The commandos were from Manuel Artime's Revolutionary Recovery Movement, they said.

The sources said, the attack was a "total success." The raid touched off a Cuba-wide alert, according to the report.
